CRACK BUST IN BAY ST. LOUIS

Hancock County Narcotics Division Agent Clifton (Bubba) Malley, right, shakes down Frank A. Magee, following a drug bust on Monday at the One Stop Car Wash and Detail Shop, corner of Highway 90 and Washington Street, Bay St. Louis. Major Matt Karl, Narcotic Division's director, at left, said Magee was charged with the two counts of the sale of a controlled substance, crack cocaine. Below left: Lt. Jimmy Esposito searches one of two vehicles seized in Monday's drug bust. Below right: Cash and property titles selzed from the suspects.

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS Publisher Emeritus

Two Gulfport residents were arrested and charged with two counts each for the sale of a controlled subcrack cocaine Monday at Bay St. Louis business, Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

Narcotics Director Major Matt Karl said, "We received information that illegal drug activities was tasking place at the One Stop Car wash and Detail Shop at the intersection of U.S. Highway 90 and Washington Street in Bay St. Louis."

"Arrested were Frank A. Magee, 38, and (AKA) Calvin D. Graves, 20, both of Gulfport. Both were charged with two counts of the sale of a controlled substance. Graves gave officers an alias when arrested and his name turned out to be Harvey Levy, age 19, of Gulfport" Karl said.

Karl continued, "Two purchases were made at the car wash by an undercover officer, one around 11 a.m. for $250 and another after lunch for $550. Around 4 p.m. Monday with a search warrant, Sheriff's Narcotics Division Agents and Special Operations Officers raided the Car Wash and arrested Magee and Graves (Levy). Magee's bond was set at $50,000 and Graves' (Levy) at $30,000."

In addition to crack cocaine, (estimated at 3/4 of a cookie total) officers confiscated cash and two vehicles in which seizure pro-

The City of Bay St. Louis has been selected for the second year in a row to host the Dixle Girls World Series next summer, Helping Mayor Eddle Favre make the announcement are from left to right: Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Board member Amy Core, Hancock County Tourism and Development director Beth Carriere, Favre, tournament director Lonnie Falgout, and District 3 Supervisor Lisa Cowand.

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER Staff Writer

The City of Bay St. Louis will be hosting the Dixie Girls World Series for the second year in a row next summer. The city hosted a successful series last August and the parents and players said they just couldn't wait to get back to the Bay, said Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre. This is the first time a city has been selected to host back to back tournaments.

The mayor held and informal conference to announce the news at city hall on Tuesday. He announced the news purposely on Tuesday, said Favre, because it was the late Tim Neely's birthday. Neely was instrumental in making the first series possible and in securing its return next year. He died earlier this month.

Next summer's tournament will honor Neely by being publicized as The Tim Neely Hancock County Classic in recognition of his support of girl's athletics and the city.

This past summer the series brought about 1800 to 2500 people and a quarter of a million dollars to the area during the tournament. Organizers hope to meet or exceed that amount next sum-

Favre said that even though the tournament is officially hosted by Bay St. Louis, the business is good for the entire county. Because of that, he said, the city hopes to garner added support from area businesses, personal and civic donations. Donations can be anything from food to

Reasons given by the Dixie Girl's National Board of Directors for selecting the Bay the second time around were, hospitality, location, the feeling of safety and requests from parents and players.

Health Care- In the 2004 legislative session Dirk Dedeaux will fight for affordable health insurance for working Mississippians.

Jobs- Dirk Dedeaux coordinated efforts in the House of Representatives to pass legislation that brought jobs to Stennis Space Center and South Mississippi. His aggressive approach to economic development has earned Dirk the endorsement of the South Central Labor Council.

Values- Dirk Dedeaux believes in traditional family values. He has helped fight for tougher drug laws to protect our families and communities. Dirk has earned the endorsement of the Mississippi Right to Life Committee for his consistent stand against abortion.

Education- Dirk Dedeaux stood by his commitment to put the education of our children first. Computers are now in every classroom, student test scores are rising and our teachers are earning a better living. Because of his progressive support for education, Dirk has earned the endorsement of the Mississippi Association of Second Amendment Rights- Dirk Dedeaux has earned the endorsement of the National Rifle Association because he firmly believes that the Constitutional right to keep and bear arms must be protected.

Motorist have to be very careful driving about town Friday night, as youngsters can become so involved they may forget traffic rules.

Halloween is a time many youngsters have a great time and I urge all parents to express the importance of following safety rules to them before they go out Trick-or-Treating.

Hopefully too, all of the youngsters will be accompanied by an adult.

Bay St. Louis will have its regular street closings from 5 to 8 p.m., according to Police Chief Frank McNeil.

Among those include: Spanish Acres Subdivision, blocked at entrance; DeMontluzin from Toulme Street to Dunbar Avenue; Woods Street, blocked at Esplanade Street; Cornith, blocked at Dunbar and Jackson Blvd.; and Vine Circle, blocked at both ends.

Parents and children should be careful and allow for some local traffic to move about as may be necessary for residents to reach their homes, or for emergencies.

I hope that everyone will have a safe Halloween.

As for the past ten years, the Hancock County Historical Society will have its Halloween Tour of Cedar Rest Cemetery, from 5 to 8

This is tour is really a history lesson about previous residents of Hancock County, who are buried in Cedar Rest.

The tour lasts about 45 minutes and will involve the history of about ten families.

Bringing back memories will be St. Clare Catholic Church's Annual Fair, Friday, October 31st, Nov. 1st and 2nd.

The first St. Clare's Fair was held in 1953 and continued for 43 consecutive years, only to take a nineyear break.

I know that Waveland's former Mayor John Longo was the chairman for many years and recall the Friday night fish fry to begin the affair.

The hours on Friday are 4 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.; and Sunday Noon to 6 p.m. and admission is free.

There will be live entertainment, games, silent auctions, crafters, a white elephant booth, carnival rides, lots of food, fun and surprises.

Hancock County Food Pantry needs your help

f the Hancock County Food Pantry is to con-Ltinue meeting the needs of our citizens in the future, we must enlarge our base of contributors.

Thus, we are appealing to the churches, businesses and civic groups in Hancock County for financial assistance. We are the primary source of free food for those who live in Hancock County.

The Food Pantry provides food to anyone living within Hancock County who has an immediate "crisis" need for food.

The Food Pantry, a state chartered nonprofit organization, was founded in 1986 and draws its financial support from area churches, businesses, civic groups, the United Way, and many, many individuals in the community.

The Food Pantry is located on Ulman Avenue and Anyone interested in helping the Hancock County Food Pantry may call 467-2790

AMR donates retired ambulances to county

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Medical American Response (AMR), the ambulance service and EMS Authority for Hancock and Harrison counties, donated four retired ambulances to public safety departments Hancock throughout County during a ceremony held at the regular Board of Supervisors meeting recent-

Chris Cirillo, director of operations for AMR, presented the donated vehicles to the Post 58 Volunteer Fire Department, Leetown Volunteer Fire Department and Bayside Volunteer Fire Department.

AMR donated a vehicle to Waveland Police Department earlier on Sept.

"We are grateful for the teamwork of the fire-rescue and law enforcement personnel in the county. These donations are one way for us to show our appreciation to our public safety parts. Cirillo said. "We ners," Cirillo said. know Hancock County will put theses vehicles to great use in serving the needs of the communities for years

Valued near $10,000 each, these retired ambulances will be converted by fire and police officials and used to supplement tactical and fire rescue operations in the county.

AMR is one of only 96 accredited ambulance services in the nation. AMR credits the long-life of their vehicles to a world-class fleet maintenance program, which emphasizes regular, comprehensive preventative maintenance procedures.

AMR has made similar donations to the East Hancock County Volunteer Fire Department, Hancock Department and the Bay St.

Louis Police Department.

Republican AG candidate had been bought, as well as Scott Newton of Jackson.

Or does RAGA ring a bell with you? RAGA stands for Attorneys Republican General Association. It's in here, too, putting big cash into Newton's campaign bid.

You won't find RAGA shown as such in Newton's campaign finance report in the secretary of state's office. You will find RSLC Mississippi PAC. That stands for Republican State Leadership Committee. RSLC kicked in $300,000 during August to Newton's

While LEAA nor RAGA is a household word down here in the sticks, both have been the subject of considerable public controversy either in Congress or other states around the country.

LEAA, hiding behind the protective campaign funding armor built in the Mississippi Chamber, has become behind the scenes the heaviest hitter in the state's AG

Out of the blue, a massive TV and radio blitz began over a month ago pushing Newton's candidacy and attacking the criminal prosecution record of Democratic AG candidate Jim Hood during his eight years as a district attorney in Northeast Mississippi.

The Hood camp began digging to find out who was paying for the spots and how much was being spent.

They were able to document through broadcasting outlets that a whopping $686,000 in television time $76,000 on radio. All of it had been bought by LEAA.

But there is no mention whatsoever of LEAA being the big player in the Newton campaign in his finance reports filed with the secretary of state.

Onetime Reagan press secretary Jim Brady and his wife, Sarah, who have campaigned for gun control since Brady's near-death shooting in the 1982 attempted assassination of the president, have branded the LEAA as a "cover group" for the National Rifle Association.

gun bulletin says the LEAA has come under "increased scrutiny" in a number of states for its bad business practices and potential violations of election laws.

They detail several including states, Pennsylvania and West virginia where the LEAA has either been enjoined to stop advertising in behalf of candidates or banned from fundraising for not registering with the state.

RAGA recently became a major bone of contention in the Senate Judiciary Committee debate over President Bush's nomination of Alabama Atty. Gen. Bill Pryor to the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Because of concerns raised by Senate Democrats about RAGA's questionable highly methods, fundraising Pryor's confirmation is on hold, facing a Senate filibuster.

The Washington Post

disclosed in July that RAGA had made a practice of soliciting big contributions from corporations subject to regulatory lawsuits by granting them access to the RAGAs during golf weekends at resorts.

Mississippi's Moore is quoted in a report by the Washington-based Alliance for Justice as highly critical of Pryor's motives in founding RAGA as a splinter group of the National General Attorneys Association.

"For the last four years," Moore said, "they (RAGA) raised money from big busi-The Bradys' online antiness...at these big fancy meetings. They say, 'you can come and have a meeting with the AGs...you can have personal access.' I just think it is wrong."

Documents show that Scott Newton was an honored guest of RAGA last June at its summer golfing meeting in Las Vegas that listed 22 corporate sponsors ranging from tobacco companies to two gaming companies that run major casino operations Mississippi.

To counter the $300,000 RAGA poured into his opponent's campaign in August (and possibly more since), Democrat Hood admitted last week he has gone to the recently formed National Democratic Attorneys General organization for funding help in the final days of his race.

So to quote the tune from "Cabaret," it's "money, money; money" that makes even the world of politics go

ELECTION--7A

A Surprising Admission from Rico Lee, Candidate for Representative, District #93

You might be surprised to hear this from me, but I actually voted for my opponent four years ago. Most of the people helping with my campaign told me I shouldn't tell you that. But I'm not the kind of person who is comfortable only telling half the story. I pride myself on being upfront with people.

I voted for my opponent because he claimed to share my conservative values and said he would fight for them in Jackson. That was before he got elected.

As soon as he got elected and went up to Jackson everything changed.

One of the very first votes he cast was to elect Ronnie Musgrove governor - even though more than 55% of his district voted for Mike Parker. But that wasn't

He also voted to double the amount of money he would receive from his state retirement benefit. He voted to let some felons out of jail early. He voted to allow adults to remove some criminal convictions from their records. He even voted to raise the fees on residential child care centers.

I could go on and on, but I won't. The point is simple. I'm running because my opponent claimed to be a conservative when he was running for election four years ago. Then he turned his back on those values.

A Surprising Pledge from Rico Lee

You might find it strange that I haven't mentioned my opponent's name. I'm not going to either. The purpose of this ad isn't to attack him. I simply wanted to provide some background as to why I'm making this surprising pledge to you today.

If you elect me as your representative. I pledge to remain true to my conservative principles and to:

 vote against all tax increases

 vote to fully fund education before anything else

• vote to keep felons behind bars for the entire sentence imposed by the court vote to eliminate wasteful "special interest" spending

Here's the most important part. I'm making this pledge because I want to assure you I'm not promising this stuff just to get your vote. If I break any of the pledges I've made here, I won't run again in four years.

I didn't get a pledge like this four years ago from my opponent, and I got burned. I won't do that to you.

You have my word.

Stennis airport needs control tower to be more competitive

Miss. (AP) Airport has an 8,500-foot County Port and Harbor runway, which handles 6,300 operations per year, many of which are training helicopters.

But Stennis officials say they cannot attract big jets until they get a control nance, repair and overhaul;

"We lost a large cargo flight last month because we didn't have a tower," said Bill Cotter, airport director.

Funding for a $2 million tower now awaits congressional approval.

Cotter said with a control tower, the airport can start marketing itself as a remote field for cargo flights, maintenance and repair operations, and military training flights.

Hancock Although County High School lies within a half mile of the runway, the airport sits in a wooded area, with the densely forested Stennis Space Center buffer zone on one side. Development will always be held at bay so residents won't complain of aircraft noise.

Last week, U.S. Sen. Trent Lott, R-Miss., inserted $2 million for the tower in the federal transportation appropriations bill for the FY 2004 budget. Money for the tower still must be approved by a congressional conference committee.

The Stennis tower would create a second training field for planes based at Keesler Air Force Base, which faces encroachment from development in Biloxi.

The more infrastructure we have near our military bases that can complement or enhance their operations, the better off these bases will be if there is another base closure round," said Lott.

Stennis International officials have worked for years to justify an air traffic control tower with marketing studies.

We didn't just jump up and say, 'We need a tower," said Hal Walters, executive International director of the Hancock Commission.

A marketing plan outlined three business areas the airport can attract: domestic and international air cargo; aircraft mainteand military flights.

The air traffic control tower at the Gulfport/Biloxi Regional Airport monitors aircraft within 35 miles of Gulfport, which includes airspace around Stennis International.

We have to provide separation to the aircraft. We provide the approach control service," said Ralph Humphrey, air traffic manager for the Federal Aviation Administration.

Aircraft can land at Stennis with only assistance from Gulfport, he said.

Humphrey said a tower at Stennis International would improve safety.

`It would make the surface environment safer," he

The Stennis runway is long enough for any aircraft made. However, some companies do not allow their planes to land at airports without local control towers, which control the air space out to five miles and up to 2,000 feet.

House, Senate discussing compromise on Medicare prescription drug benefit

BY DAVID ESPO AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) House and Senate negotiators are discussing a compromise that would guarantee the elderly access to a government prescription benefit under Medicare if they lack a choice of private plans in their region of the country, a senior lawmaker said Monday.

Agreement on a government fallback guarantee would meet a key demand of Democrats, who insisted that such a provision be included in Senate legislation that cleared on an overwhelming bipartisan vote last summer.

"It's important to Democrats. It's important to me," said Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, who told reporters that negotiators were nearing a `fair con-

Other congressional officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, described the proposal under discussion as a blend of the House and Senate bills on the subject. In a gesture to the Senate, it would require the government to offer a standalone prescription drug plan to seniors who live in an area where there are fewer than two private plans available.

But in a bow to the House, only one of the two would have to be a standalone plan for drugs, and the other alternative might be available only if a senior left traditional Medicare and enrolled in a private, preferred provider organi-

In either event, these sources said the benefit would have to meet the criteria that the new Medicare law establishes for private companies offering drug coverage apart from comprehensive health care.

Grassley spoke as lawmakers neared the end of a series of closed-door, freewheeling discussions of key issues on the Medicare legislation.

Several aides said they expected the formal decision-making to begin shortly as negotiators for the two chambers try to meld dramatically different bills into a compromise that can clear Congress this year.

The lawmakers themselves have shown increasing signs of optimism in recent days that they will be able to reach a compromise.

President Bush has made the legislation a top priority, and both chambers passed bills earlier this year that would create a prescription drug benefit while also overhauling the entire 38-yearold government program of

Criminals target senior citizens with telemarketing schemes

BY ASHLEY CRAWFORD

MISSISSIPPI STATE --Today's senior citizens face many obstacles when trying to enjoy their hard-earned money, but consumer knowledge may ensure a happy retirement.

Senior citizens are vulnerable to scams for several reasons," said Jan Lukens, consumer management specialist with Mississippi University's State Extension Service. "Homebound senior citizens are less likely to be suspicious of offers, especially if the person is cordial. In addition, they may not be familiar with new scams targeting today's consumers. Criminals target senior citizens because they have good credit ratings and accumulated resources."

U.S. Congress estimates telemarketing scams cost American consumers more than $40 billion each year. The FBI found that fraudulent telemarketers direct nearly 80 percent of their phone calls at older consumers.

"Senior citizens are accessible during the day and therefore are good prey for someone operating a scam," Lukens said. "They need to be aware of the potential scams to hold on to their hard-earned money."

Telemarketing frauds may include prizes, sweepstakes, vacation offers, investments and charitable donations.

"It is impossible to tell over the phone if an offer is legitimate," Lukens said. "The best bet is to just hang Lukens suggested family members play the role of a telemarketer and help their older loved ones learn how to get off the phone as quickly as possible. Senior citizens should seek advice from family and friends concerning an offer or check the legitimacy of a business or organization through the Better Business Bureau before making any commit-credit card numbers, driver's license numbers, Social Security numbers, bank cards or telephone calling cards to gain the information necessary to acquire a new identity," Lukens said. "This type of scam is frightening because it may be difficult to prove. Therefore, never give out personal information on the phone unless you initiated the call."

Many frauds involve scare tactics and sales pressures. Lukens said to be skeptical no matter the situation and remember the cliche, "If an offer sounds too good to be true, it proba-

St. Clare students visit Dunbar Village

St. Clare 5th grade students are taking part in an intergenerational experience as part of their religion class. They will go every second Tues. of the month from Oct. 10 April and participate in different themes for that month. Our first visit started w/a song about friendship. The students told about themselves and were paired up with an elder. Next visit we will go down "Memory Lane" with the elders. We found out they had many talents such as Metropolitan Opera singer, a World War two lady mechanic, a chemical engineer, an electrical engineer, and dancers! Lots of them are like our 5th graders in that they love CATS!! The class then returned to school to talk and Journal about their 1st visit. The Bay St. Louis resident said she was pleased to be included in the report because of her late husband's deep love of Mississippi, and because it's always nice to receive an honor such as this.

"When you're my age, any recognition is an honor," she said. "So many people my age have given

Dr. Deborah Barker, director of the Sarah Isom Center, said Moseley was sons.

The center wanted to feature an artist and wanted to include women from around the entire state who represented diversity in age and race.

"We heard about her reputation and knew she had an interesting story," Barker said.

The report includes the population, housing, politics, art and culture, economics/employment, family care, crime and violence, philantrophy/volunteerism, education, health, religion and resources.

from the center, "the Sarah Isom Report will seek to advance the status of women and children in Mississippi by identifying needs and opportunities crucial to the well-being and advancement of women and children in Mississippi through a unique combination of statistical analysis based on the 2000 Census and field interviews, publishing findings in The Sarah Isom Report in book. and web-based formats and setting the stage for a forum to discuss innovative solutions to key problems identified in the report."

The report, it stated, was "based on the premise that nothing can more powerfully embody and communicate the profound need and extraordinary potential of

"It also attempts to advance their status by identifying needs that are crucial to their well-being, then inspiring women to take action to address those needs."

The report features stofollowing selected topics as ries about ordinary women lished (The Status of they relate to women and who are reminders of the Women in the States) comchildren in Mississippi: impact a single person can piling information on all 50 make to improve not only her own life but also the lives of many others.

The book's foreword is by Award-winning Emmy actress Sela Ward, a Meridian native. "My love for Mississippi includes not only my desire to preserve the best of the past but also my wish to create a lasting and positive change for the whole community," Ward said.

The report's statistical information comes mostly from the 2000 U.S. Census. Charts and graphs, which were provided by UM's Center for Population Studies, show such information as percentages of the state's population by race; families with children under age 18 with single males and females by age with high school diploma, undergraduate degree and college degree; and employment status and income by gender.

"Another impetus for this report is in response to a similar report published in 1998 by the Institute of Women's Policy Research in Washington, D.C., that offered a rather grim pic- \mathbf{of} women in Mississippi," Nelson said. "In 2002, the institute pubstates, then singling out Mississippi as the worst state in America for women

Twenty-five organizations cooperated for the coalition's first conference, at which they defined as a primary goal the creation of a Mississippi Commission on the Status of Women, which remains active in addressing women's issues. The Commission published the 2002 Report of the Mississippi Commission of the Status of Women, which supplemented the census information used in the Isom Center,s report.

"One of the drawbacks the information released through the U.S. Census is that many of the indicators we wanted to look at were not broken down by the gender," respondents, Nelson said. "This omission further highlights the need for organizations to gather information specifically on women:"

An invasive weed with no known value has made its way across half the state and shows no signs of letting up.

Cogongrass competes with desirable grasses and wins the battle for nutrients, but it is a very poor forage. Mississippians are learning the hard way that it is very difficult to keep this grass at bay.

John Byrd, Extension weed scientist with Mississippi State University, said the weed invades low-maintenance areas or those not in cultivation. It out-competes other grasses, yet provides nothing of value.

"It can release chemicals into the soil that inhibit the growth of other plants," Byrd said.

spreads The weedthrough wind-blown seeds and by rhizomes, a thick system of underground, horizontal stems capable of producing roots and shoots. It is difficult to destroy, and mowing and pesticides only temporarily slow its spread.

"Roundup and Arsenal will kill cogongrass for a growing season, but each node on the rhizome acts as a barrier to herbicide movement," Byrd said. "We'd like to find a herbicide that would slip through the nodes and kill a large section of the rhizome."

Herbicides applied in the spring just before bloom can prevent the weed from producing viable seeds, but it does not give long-term con-

Researchers are continuing to evaluate the effect new herbicides have on cogongrass. They are also looking at ways to modify the growing environment of cogongrass, such as by making changes in mowing frequency or soil fertility, to see if they can make it less competitive.

Byrd said researchers in Mississippi and other states are looking at ways to battle this weed. They are isolating particular pathogens found on some plant populations to see if these can inhibit its spread.

"We are seeing a pathogen this year on the seeds that prevent the seedling from becoming established," Byrd said. "This is helping from a biocontrol spread, but the majority of cogongrass spread occurs through rhizomes."

Some cost-share programs are available this year to landowners fighting congongrass. Byrd said the Resource National Conservation Service, the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and the Mississippi Forestry Commission all are helping landowners fight cogongrass on their proper-

Spirit of brotherhood evident among area USM students

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II Staff Writer

Taylor LaFontaine, Justin Pucheu, Brandon Lewis and Jeff Rose all grew up together in Hancock County. They all pledged the same fraternity in college - Kappa Sigma. And, all four decided that they needed to do something special to give back to those that may not be as fortunate as themselves. It is one of the truest definitions of brotherhood in this everchanging world of uncertainty.

LaFontaine and Pucheu came up with the idea of a charity event along with another fraternity brother, Jeremy Knight of Oak Grove. The idea was to host a charity baseball tournament and raise money for a local charity. However, they had no idea of the response they were about to receive.

The men of Kappa Sigma Fraternity at USM hosted the first annual Charity Baseball Classic at Pete Taylor Park on the campus of USM. The event took place on Thursday, October The event raised an incredible $7,100 for Special Olympics for Area I. The cities that make up Area I are Hattiesburg, Petal, Oak Grove, and Laurel.

The Kappa Sigma team took on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team in the charity game. All fraternities submitted bids to play the Kappa Sigma team. The charity event was attended by all fraternities and sororities on campus and was part of Kappa Sigma's "Margaritaville."

Not only did the fraternity play baseball, there were other activities during the game, as well. Kappa Sigma crowned Margaritaville in between innings and had dizzy bat competitions. Prior to the start of the game, there was a Homerun Derby.

USM president Shelby Thames threw out the ceremonial first pitch while several other key academic administrators viewed the festivities from the grandstands.

But, the honored guests were the Special Olympians in attendance. All the Area I Special Olympians were introduced prior to the game along with the two fraternity teams. As each Special Olympian was introduced, Queen's "We are the champions" blared from the speakers and the honored guest made a ceremonial run of the bases.

At the completion of the fifth inning, the four brothers presented the check to Special Olympics.

In the game, the Kappa Sigma team defeated the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team 11-6. The game went seven innings and was governed by high school rules. Brandon Lewis played shortstop and scored twice for Kappa Sigma despite going 0-for-0 in the game. He had two walks and was hit by two pitches. Lewis made the final out in the game for Kappa Sigma to seal the win when he fielded a ground ball and flipped it to second base for the force Justin Pucheu, the Grand Master of Ceremonies for Kappa Sigma, came in to play rightfield in the fifth inning and crushed a 3-2 pitch to the 340' leftfield wall during his at-bat. Jeff Rose, the president of Kappa Sigma, came in the sixth inning to play third base and turned two key outs in the seventh and final inning. LaFontaine played third base for Kappa Sigma and went 2-for-3 at the plate with 5 RBIs.

LaFontaine commented, "First and foremost, we would like to thank all the people responsible for helping make this event a huge success. Kappa Sigma won the game with great pitching and tough defense; however, we triumphed in an even bigger way by being able to raise these resources for Special Olympics. All the people involved made this a win-win situation for a wonderful organization. The men of Kappa Sigma had a terrific time playing for and spending time with the Area I Special Olympic athletes.'

Justin Pucheu, Brandon and Lewis, LaFontaine all graduated from St. Stanislaus in 1999, 2000, and 2001, respectively. Jeff Rose is a 1998 graduate of Bay High School. Also, Pete Taylor Park is named in honor of Pete Taylor, a 1938 graduate of St. Stanislaus.

There was something in the air on Friday night as all four area teams dropped their games on the gridiron. SSC and Bay High both lost in overtime. Hancock was blanked by Picayune and Pass Christian dropped a hard fought game with Vancleave by a touchdown.

The St. Stanislaus Rocka-chaws (4-5, 3-2) entertained the Gautier Gators (7-2, 5-0) in between the walls' on Friday. And, the fans certainly got their money's worth. The Hancock Hawks (4-5) dropped a region game 23-0 to the Picayune Maroon Tide. The loss practically eliminated the Hawks from playoff contention but postseason hopes are still evident for a bowl game with two wins in their final two

The Hawks recovered a fumble at the Tide 30 yardline early in the game but were unable to move the chains as the Tide defense set the tempo.

Charles Bolden recorded 8 tackles and a fumble recovery on defense while Donald Hains tallied 10 tackles.

The Hawks will host the Meridian Wildcats at "The Nest" on Friday night. The evening will also feature Senior Night for the Hawks. Game time is slated for 7:30pm.

The Pass Christian Pirates dropped their final division game of the season to the Vancleave Bulldogs 21-15 in Pass Christian.

Turnovers in the first half plagued the Pirates in the loss that has their playoff hopes clouded. On three occasions, the Pirate offense put the ball on the ground and turned it over to the Bulldogs.

Vancleave got on the board first when the Bulldogs scrambled out of a busted field goal attempt and scored on a pass play. The Bulldogs made the score 1220 on a 21-yard rush early in the second period.

Vancleave went ahead 21-0 at halftime when they recovered a Pirate fumble and went 64 yards in 10

Jeffrey Hilliard got the Pirates on the scoreboard in the third quarter when he tossed a touchdown pass to Anthony Henderson. Jonathan Willis scored a two-point conversion when the snap was mishandled on the PAT attempt.

Jarred Bowser scored from seven yards out to cut the lead to 21-15 following a strange scenario of penalties against the Bulldogs. Bowser ended the game with 130 yards on the ground a score.

The Pirates had one last shot after recovering a Vancleave fumble. Pass Christian drove down to the Vancleave 10 yardline before turning the ball over on downs.

The Pirates will close out regular season play with a non-division game against Pearl River. Game time is set for 7:30pm.

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week Nine is Bay High's Lorenzo Lewis who had seven catches for 280 yards and four touchdowns. Lewis also added a rushing touchdown to his stat sheet in the 48-41 double-overtime loss to East Central.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week Nine is scooped up by Hancock's Donald Hains who tallied 10 total tackles in a tough 23-0 loss to rival Picayune.

Playoff-bound Pearl River wraps up regular season with road to Co-Lin

POPLARVILLE-The playoff-bound Pearl River Community College Wildcats will wrap up their 2003 regular season today when they travel to Copiah-Lincoln in Wesson for a 7 p.m. battle.

The Wildcats, who moved up from No. 15 to No. 13 in this week's NJCAA Top 15 poll, clinched the South's No. 2 playoff spot last Saturday with a 38-0 blow out over Mississippi Gulf Coast in Poplarville.

Hinds. Tenth-ranked which handed PRCC its only loss of the season with a last-minute 31-27 victory Sept. 27 in Poplarville, clinched the South crown Saturday with its 17-10 win over No. 3-ranked Jones in Ellisville.

Hinds, which wrapped up its division slate with a perfect 6-0 mark after its Jones victory, plays its last regular-season battle on the road against non-division rival East Mississippi in Scooba Thursday and will host North No. 2 seed Mississippi Delta in the first round of the playoffs Saturday, Nov. 8.

North champ Northwest, ranked No. 15, hosts the Wildcats the same day with the winners of the two Nov. 8 contests battling it out the following Saturday for the MACJC state title. PRCC, which won the division crown a year ago, handed Northwest its only loss of the season with a hardfought 17-7 victory in Poplarville Sept. 11.

ing the Rangers (NWCC) again," said PRCC head coach Tim Hatten. "But we can't look past Co-Lin even though we've got a playoff one more step towards us spot clinched. We've got to continue to work hard on the practice field and remained focused. Anybody can beat anybody on a given day in our league."

Co-Lin opened the season with a 15-0 home loss to Mississippi Delta, but answered the setback with its only two victories of the season. The Wolves pounded Coahoma 21-7, then trimmed Mississippi Gulf Coast 28-23 the following week to open both squads' division slates.

Jones, perched in the Top 15 for the entire season until falling out following last Saturday's loss to Hinds, pulled off a 36-7 victory in Ellisville Sept. 27 to even the Wolves' record at 2-2. Since, it's been all down hill for second-year head coach Dave Poinsett's squad. East Central pounded the Wolves 42-19 in Decatur in week five, followed by a three straight home losses, a 20-0 setback to division champ Hinds, a 28-6 defeat to defending state champ Holmes, and last week's 30-7 setback to arch-rival Southwest.

Last season, Pearl River's 31-14 victory over Co-Lin in Poplarville saw the Wildcats wrap up their regular season with a perfect 6-0 division mark.

PRCC finished the game with 441 yards of total offense (145 rush, 296 pass), while CLCC managed 299 (118 rush, 181 pass).

winning a state title and we can't afford to look past them."

Co-Lin's offense is rock bottom in the state, averaging 227.4 yards a game (108.5 rush, 118.9 pass), River's while Pearl renowned nationallyranked aerial show is second only to Northwest's, averaging 385.5 yards an outing (132.8 rush, 252.8 pass). The Rangers average 420.5 yards a game (255.6 rush, 239.1 pass).

Defensively, the Wolves are fourth in total defense, while PRCC is third. Co-Lin has given up an average of 231.7 yards a game (124.2 rush, 107.5 pass) through eight games with its passing defense third-best in the state. Pearl River, on the other hand, has the thirdbest defense in the league statistically, giving up an average of 211.1 yards a game (58.8 rush, 152.4

"Co-Lin's defense can give you problems," Hatten said. "They've got some talented athletes on the defensive side and they would like nothing better than to knock off the Wildcats. It's our jobs as coaches to prevent that from happening."

Thursday's game marks the 68th time the two teams have pounded it out on thegridiron in a heated rivalry that dates back to 1934 when the Wolves took a 12-0 shutout over the Wildcats.

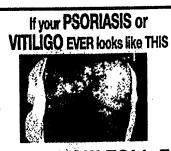

With the exception of "We've got to approach 1936's 7-7 and 1941's 13-13 this game like any other deadlocks, Pearl River wasn't victorious over Co-Lin "We've taken the season one until 1946's 32-7 win. game at a time and have Legendary PRCC head been successful for the most coach Dobie Holden led the winning streak over the Wolves, starting in 1948 before Co-Lin snapped the string with a 20-14 victory in 1955, then won 14-13 in Pearl River pounded the Wolves 52-6 in 1961's state and national championship season, then took a 50-14 lopsided win two years later in another state title year for the River. After 1964's 42-0 shutout, the Wolves picked up a 15-7 and 21-19 victories in 1965 and 1966, respectively.

John Russell succeeded Holden in 1967 and was 5-1-1 against the Wolves in his seven seasons at the Wildcat helm. Harvey Seligman was named interim head coach the 1974 season after Russell resigned during the preseason and recorded a 16-13 win over Co-Lin. J.C. Arban arrived on the scene in 1975 and reeled off a 6-5 mark in his 11 seasons with the Wildcats. Arban's successor, Mike Nelson, was 1-3 against the Wolves, while Willie Coats followed with a 2-3 mark.

Keith Daniels succeeded Coats in 1995 and was 2-3 in five years. He died of a brain hemorrhage five games into the 2000 season.Pearl River leads the series with 34 wins compared to 31 losses and three ties and has won an unprecedented 15 state championships. Co-Lin has won nine titles, including a string of six straight from 1929 through 1934 and back-to-back championships in 1937 and 1938. Pearl River Wildcats win first-ever soccer title

Community College's Wildcat soccer team made history here Saturday, claiming their first-ever MACJC-Region XXIII championship with a 3-1 victory over Hinds behind the three-goal effort of midfielder Drew Gallant.

The sophomore transfer from Spring Hill College scored twice in the first half and added his third tally early in the second off a brilliant head shot to put the Wildcats up 3-0. Some 10 minutes later, Hinds' Brad Blackwell's goal ended the scoring and spoiled PRCC's shutout hopes.

"What can you say about the guy," said Wildcat men's and women's head coach Adam Breerwood. "Drew's our leading scorer and we always expect him to be a key performer on the field, but we would've never expected this. He's just an incredible player.

"Big-time players step up big-time in big games...and it just wasn't Drew. It took a complete team effort to pull this off and I couldn't both team's season openers be more pleased."

Teamwork was the name of the game in the South Division champ Wildcats' 6-1 victory over North No. 2 seed Mississippi Delta on Saturday to get to the title round, as six different players scored en route to the victory. Gallant, prepped at Forrest County AHS, Walt Thomas of Petal, Stephen Kulikowski of St. Stanislaus, Brandon Baas and Austin Lovitt, both of Oak Grove; and John Brisco of San Antonio, Fla., tallied solo goals for the Wildcats. PRCC is now 16-2-1overall.

"It was pretty obvious at the start of the season that there weren't a lot of people out there that gave us much of a chance to compete for title," overall Breerwood said.

"But it was the belief in ourselves and our guys' hard work and dedication on the practice field that resulted in this championship. PRCC avenged its 3-2 in Raymond on Aug. 23 with the victory.

In the women's championship game, the Lady Wildcats fell to Hinds 2-0, marking the third time in five years the Lady Eagles have spoiled PRCC's title hopes.

"It's pretty obvious the road to the championship always travels through Hinds," Breerwood said. "But we have nothing to hang our heads about. We've won three division titles in our five seasons back-to-back and took championships the past two vears. "The season isn't over. It's still alive with the regionals next weekend and it might just work out that we'll get another shot at Hinds." PRCC's women pulled out a nail-biting thriller Saturday to get into the championship round with a 4-3 double-overtime, doubleshootout victory over North No. 2 seed Northwest.

All-MACJC, All-Region overtime loss to Hinds in XXIII sophomore forward

Ashley Chrisman of Our Lady Academy scored two goals, while freshman midfielder Janna Clements of North Forrest added another in the contest. A 3-3 stalemate remained intact through two overtime periods, with sophomore midfielder Lauren Hillery of Picayune High scoring the winning goal in a second shootout.

"Our girls still got goals to achieve this season,' Breerwood continued. "But we've still got a lot of work to do in the course of the week to get ready for regionals and we're looking forward to getting back on the field this weekend."

The Lady Wildcats return to post-season play when it returns to Hinds for the Region XXIII Tournament. PRCC takes on Bossier Parish (La.) at 1 p.m. Friday, followed by state champion Hinds verthird-seeded sus Mississippi Gulf Coast at 3 p.m. Friday's winners will

man, was named to succeed Alcine Saucier as Bay St. Louis Chief of Police, effective Nov. 1., Commissioner J. Cyril Glover announced yesterday. This action was taken to conform with a new state law limiting the age of municipal police officers. The entire police force is in the process of being reorganized, he said.

-They're setting new fashion trends for men out mosquito-infested Mississippi Test Operations. Wide brimmed straw hats -the type worn several years ago -- are the order of the day. The hats are trimmed with netting, usually in shade of green to cut down on glare, and a drawstring to completely cover the face, ears and neck. The idea is reminiscent of pictures taken in the tropics.

-Employment Mississippi Test Operations this week climbed past the 700 mark for the first time. Mack Herring, public information officer, reported a nose count showed 716 now on the job.

most widely believed legends of the monster many locals say.

Whatever the local legends say, the legendary monster on the Louisiana side of the river comes closest to Earl's description, minus the moss. The Honey Island swamp monster was described by hunter Harlan E. Ford in 1974, as a large seven foot tall creature, covered with gray hair and having large amber colored eves. Ford said he spotted the creature near a wild boar that has had its throat Captivated by the story researchers arrived on the scene, most discounting Ford's story in the end. Ford, however continued to search for the creature until his death, accounts sav.

But even to this day legends of swamp monsters persist around the globe. A story which appeared on news.com just this Tuesday tells of work being stopped on a major highway system through New Zealand. Local Maori Indians have insisted gashed. Ford took a plaster that the highway is infringing on the territory of Taniwha, a legendary swamp monster capable of causing traffic deaths. Work has been stopped pending an investigation.

Likely there will continue to be stories of legendary monsters, and the stories will draw their share of believers and their share of skeptics, neither if which will be able to prove conclusively who is right or wrong. Maybe the truth is that not everything in life can be explained, and maybe that is the way it should be.

GLADYS KNIGHT

Grammy-award winning Motown legend Gladys Knight is set to perform at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday and Saturday, November 14th and 15th at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $29.95, $34.95 & $39.95 through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 through any Ticketmaster

The great ones endure, and Gladys Knight has long been one of the greatest.

Very few singers over the last fifty years have matched her unassailable

At the age of four, she began singing as a guest soloist in church. At age seven she won the Grand Prize on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour, and the following year, she, along with her brother Bubba, her sister Brenda, and her cousins

William and Elinor Guest, formed The Pips. In 1959, Brenda and Elinor left the group, replaced by cousin Edward Patten and friend Langston George. The group was renamed Gladys Knight and the Pips, and following Langston's departure in 1962, the classic line-up was in place.

With Gladys singing lead and the Pips providing lush harmonies and graceful choreography, the group went on to achieve icon status, having recorded some of the most memorable songs of the 60's, 70's, and 80's. Their hits include:

"I Heard It Through The Grapevine," "If I Were Your Woman," "Neither One of Us (Wants To Be The First To Say Goodbye)," "I've Got To Use My Imagination," "Best Thing That Ever Happened to Me," and the #1 smash "Midnight Train to Georgia." "On And On," Gladys enjoyed another #1 hit in 1985 when she teamed with Stevie Wonder, Friends Are For."

All told, Gladys Knight has recorded over 36 albums over the years, including four solo albums

Says the singer of her career today, "I love this industry because it's everchanging. Music speaks to people's spirits; wherever the social consciousness is, that's where music is going to be. Doing as much as I do satisfies my creative spirit, because I do enjoy wearing a lot of hats: I've been at the board for a long time, producing - many people don't know that, but I've always had a direct hand in the production of all of my projects."

Knight now shares her musical wisdom on the Fox television hit "American Juniors" giving constructive criticism to young aspiring singers.

Don't miss Gladys Friday and Knight Saturday November 14th and 15th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

SHIRLEY JONES

Everyone's favorite TV mom Shirley Jones is set to perform at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday and Saturday, November 28th and 29th at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $14.95, $19.95 & $24.95 through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster Outlet.

The Shirley Jones story is quintessential American Cinderella story. Jones was born in 1934, in Charleroi, Pennsylvania and named after Shirley Temple. Immediately following her graduation from high school, Jones was spotted by a scout photographer for the coveted Miss Pittsburgh Beauty Pageant. She competed and won the title and others before being awarded a scholarship to the famed Pittsburgh Playhouse. Following her apprenticeship at the playhouse, Jones borrowed a mere $160 from her father to move to New York City, promising to return home when the money was gone. That day would never come.

Jones learned that replacement try-outs for the chorus of "South Pacific" were underway at the St. James Theater and decided that the try-outs would be as good as any for her first professional audition. She arrived at the theater to find over 85 girls scrambling for a place in line. Fifty-one girls later, it was Jones's turn. The voice of Richard Rodgers, in a rare visit to a chorus audition, came out of the darkness

Elton John, and Dionne asking if Miss Jones would Warwick on "That's What be "kind enough to wait 20 minutes to sing for his asso-Mr. Oscar ciate, Hammerstein." She waited and sang, and the stage lit up. For Shirley Jones the struggle was over. Her first stage appearance was as one of the nurses in that same Broadway musical "South Pacific." Rodgers and Hammerstein then graduated their fresh discovery to a leading role and a national tour in their new musical "Me and Juliet". It was during this tour that preparations for the movie version of "Oklahoma!"

> began in Hollywood. Competition for the coveted role of Laurey was mounting furiously and attracting national attention. Along with scores of contenders, Rodgers and Hammerstein arranged for young Shirley Jones to interrupt her tour to fly to Hollywood for a screen test and the rest is Hollywood history.

The movie follow-ups to the "Oklahoma!" came like rapid-fire for the nation's new girl-nextdoor. Jones starred opposite some of the biggest names in the business in "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," "Bedtime Story," "The Happy Ending," "The Cheyenne Social Club," "The Music Man" and of course. "Carousel" in which she starred once again with Gordon McRaeher "Oklahoma" co-star. In 1960, Jones won an Oscar for Best Supporting Actress for her powerful portrayal of Lulu Bains in the ageless American classic "Elmer Gantry".

Television introduced another generation to Jones in the four-year hit series "The Partridge Family," in which she was the matriarch of the family's successful rock and roll band.

Jones has headlined at the MGM Grand in Las Vegas and has made numerous summer tours starring in favorite musicals such as "The Sound of Music" and "Show Boat". In 1977, she married her second husband, comedian Marty Ingels.

Shaun, Patrick and Ryan Cassidy, Shirley's three children with late actor Jack Cassidy, all work within the entertainment industry.

In the past few years, Jones has been busy touring the world, performing in concert. She has also accepted some fabulous guest appearances on popular network shows such as "The Carey Show," Teenage "Sabrina, the Witch" and "That 70's Show". Don't miss Shirley Jones Friday and Saturday November 28th and 29th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

THE SEA COAST ECHO 14th annual The Magnolia State Gem, Jewelry Mineral, and Show, sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Gem and Mineral Society, will be held at the Jackson County Fairground's Civic Center Building, in Pascagoula, Mississippi.

The public is cordially invited to attend and children are welcome. There is no charge for admission or parking. Dates and times for the Friday, show are: 7th November Saturday, November 8th. 10:00 A.M. until 6:00 P.M. and Sunday, November 9th, 10:00 A.M. until 5:00

Bill and Lois Pattillo of Robstown, Texas, will delight and astound you with their famous "Rock Food Table", a banquet complete with fine china, silver ware, crystal, and candles, yet the food which looks so appetizing and amazingly real is in fact rock.

A breakfast table with traditional food items easily recognized is also included in this fantastic display.

Even the household pet dog or "rockhound" can be found curled up under the table. Bill and Lois will be at the display to answer questions, provide a history of the "Rock Food Table" and entertain you with tales of their experiences with the display.

The show will also feature a number of other interesting and educational exhibits. A meteorite display will contain one found at Point Cadet in Biloxi, Mississippi, another found just north of Vancleave, Mississippi, and numerous others found in different parts of the world. One of the more interesting items in this display will be slabs of the "Mhamid Hammani" meteorites which are older than our solar system having formed in the radioactive heat of the solar nebula about five billion years ago. Most meteorites bum up upon entering the earth's atmosphere, those that survive are usually very small, not easily recognized by the general and as public, consequence they are quite rare. This display will also include meteorite slabs that have been cut, polished, and etched with acid to show the internal striations caused by the extreme heat generated upon entering the earth's atmosphere at twenty to thirty thousand miles per hour and then cooling very rapidly. A special "Touch and Feel" exhibit from the Natural Museum Smithsonian History, Institute, Washington, D.C. will be on loan for the show. This exhibit will excellent feature an selection of ancient The fossilized plants. unique thing about this exhibit is that it will be an open display and give the visitors rare opportunity to actually handle the items and examine them up close.

An exhibit that should appeal to local interest is a fossilized shrimp another fossil containing numerous small fish. The fossilized shrimp (Antrimpos speciosus) is from the Jurassic Era and is millions of years old. It was found in the Soinhofen Limestone of Bavaria in southern Germany. The fish (Knightia) smallrepresents a mass kill to geologist meaning that the entire school was suddenly buried by an ancient catastrophic geological event.

This fossil is also from a Jurassic Era formation and was found in Wyoming. The exhibit will also have a very rare fossilized "bee", ferns, leaves, shark's teeth, and other plants or critters. There will even be amber (fossilized tree sap) with bugs just in case someone is interested is starting their own Jurassic Park.

Another unique exhibit will be the ultra-violet or "black light" display. This light spectrum is below the range visible to the human

Many rocks minerals that appear drab within the normal human visual range will fluoresce (glow) in beautiful brilliant colors under black light. This display will let you see the rock and minerals under normal light and under short wave and long wave ultra-violet or black light. New Scott Aquarium programs include shark encounters, Gulf marine habitats

THE SEA COAST ECHO

From hands-on shark encounters to trawling for fish species in the Mississippi Sound, Scott Aquarium educators are launching the academic year this week with new learning experiences at The University of Southern Mississippi facility here.

New adventures with marine habitats, creatures of the sea and shore and marine technology are on the agenda for students and teachers through three revamped programs: the Project Marine Discovery half-day field trips to the Aquarium, two- and threeday student mini-camps and teacher workshops.

"As one part of the new shark activity for the PMD field trip program, we have illuminated shark egg cases in one of our small tanks in the aquarium area," educator Jennifer Hale said. "That way our students and visitors can see the living baby shark along with its egg yolk sac. Right now each one looks like a tiny shark Regular visitors will notice that the yolk sac depletes as the shark grows."

When the sharks hatch in about two weeks, more egg cases will go on display. Sharks of the same species will also go on display and give visiting students a chance to touch a living shark. The small species is the Indo-Pacific bamboo cat shark, also known as the black-banded cat shark.

The world of plankton and a coral reef room will also greet all grade levels participating in the half-day programs. Lower grades will experience fish adaptations through art as a fourth activity while older students join educators in the aquarium area to get acquainted with Gulf of Mexico species and the issues that affect the health of gulf animals and environments.

"Our educators have been enthusiastic about putting together new experiences for student groups who visit the aquarium," Dr. Sharon administrator, said. "They have done an excellent job of making the 'wow' of ocean science accessible to all

For teachers who want more than a half day for their students, registration is now open for a variety of new student mini-camps in the fall and spring.

"We are still offering our popular beach and barrier island adventures, and we have added new mini-camps on wetlands, birding and fisheries," Walker said.

The beach and barrier island program takes students into the environment of a local mainland beach and an offshore barrier island for firsthand encounters with living sea crea-

The wetlands experience involves canoeing bayous, exploring pine savannas and swamps, working in a freshwater pond ecosystem and collecting plants typical of coastal wetlands. The birding mini-camp will include field trips to the

The fisheries mini-camp is an introduction to the real-world issues involved in ensuring a sustainable fishery.

"Among the experiences for students are trawling for samples of fish species aboard a vessel in the operation," Walker said.

The mini-camps are open for groups of students ages 8 years and older. Teachers may choose one of the four different mini-camps in either a two- or three-day format.

New workshops are also on tap for teachers on a range of topics in October and November. They offer the opportunity to earn continuing education units and come with various levels of scholarship support by agencies. sponsoring Upcoming workshops are 29-31, Oct.
